PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy New Year everyone time to get out there and do the naked snow dance we can use a big storm any dance will help

Be sure to purchase your TMA at one of our sales outlets Gillies Sales & Service , Laquerres Marine , Trow Hill Grocery , R&L Archery or from our web site

Trail master : Tim Stone and his crew of trail groomers have the roller hooked to the Piston Bully and are ready to go once we receive enough snow

UPDATE ON 302 : Most of you are aware the club has had one section of trail closed due to a logging operation on the WoodWise property on corridor 302 / Butterfield Mountain.

The club has obtained permission for an alternate route and this happened just before New Year's Eve ! The time table for constructing this trail is very short so right after permission was obtained from WoodWise the Cochran's and the Martin's to construct this alternate trail the chain saws started.

Allowing us to keep 302 Open this season and it will also give us an alternate route in case of logging in the future as I write this the trail cutting has been completed and the excavating and bridge should be finished this weekend and ready to be used our hats are off to everyone who is responsible for making this happen including Adam Martin for starting the dialog between the WoodWise Land Co's local forester / Agent and the Sno Bees also opening up more of his and Charlie Martin's property to this bypass, Dave Watson for the excavating , Lionel Cyr , Mike Perrigo , Adam Spaulding , Mike McCauley , Greg Burger Blake for cutting trees delivering bridge materials way up onto Butterfield Mountain and construction of a bridge over Nate's brook also the complete Sno Bees board for coming together the week between Christmas and New Years to set it up to make this happen

Next week Friday the 13th is the annual Sno Bees dinner raffle being held at The Barre Elks Club starting at 6PM with a prime rib dinner for two included in the $100.00 ticket price and the chance to win big money thank you to our Dinner Raffle chair Bob Campo and his committee for putting on this important club fund raiser if you haven't got your ticket please contact any of the members of the Board to get your ticket
